CAPITOLIAN

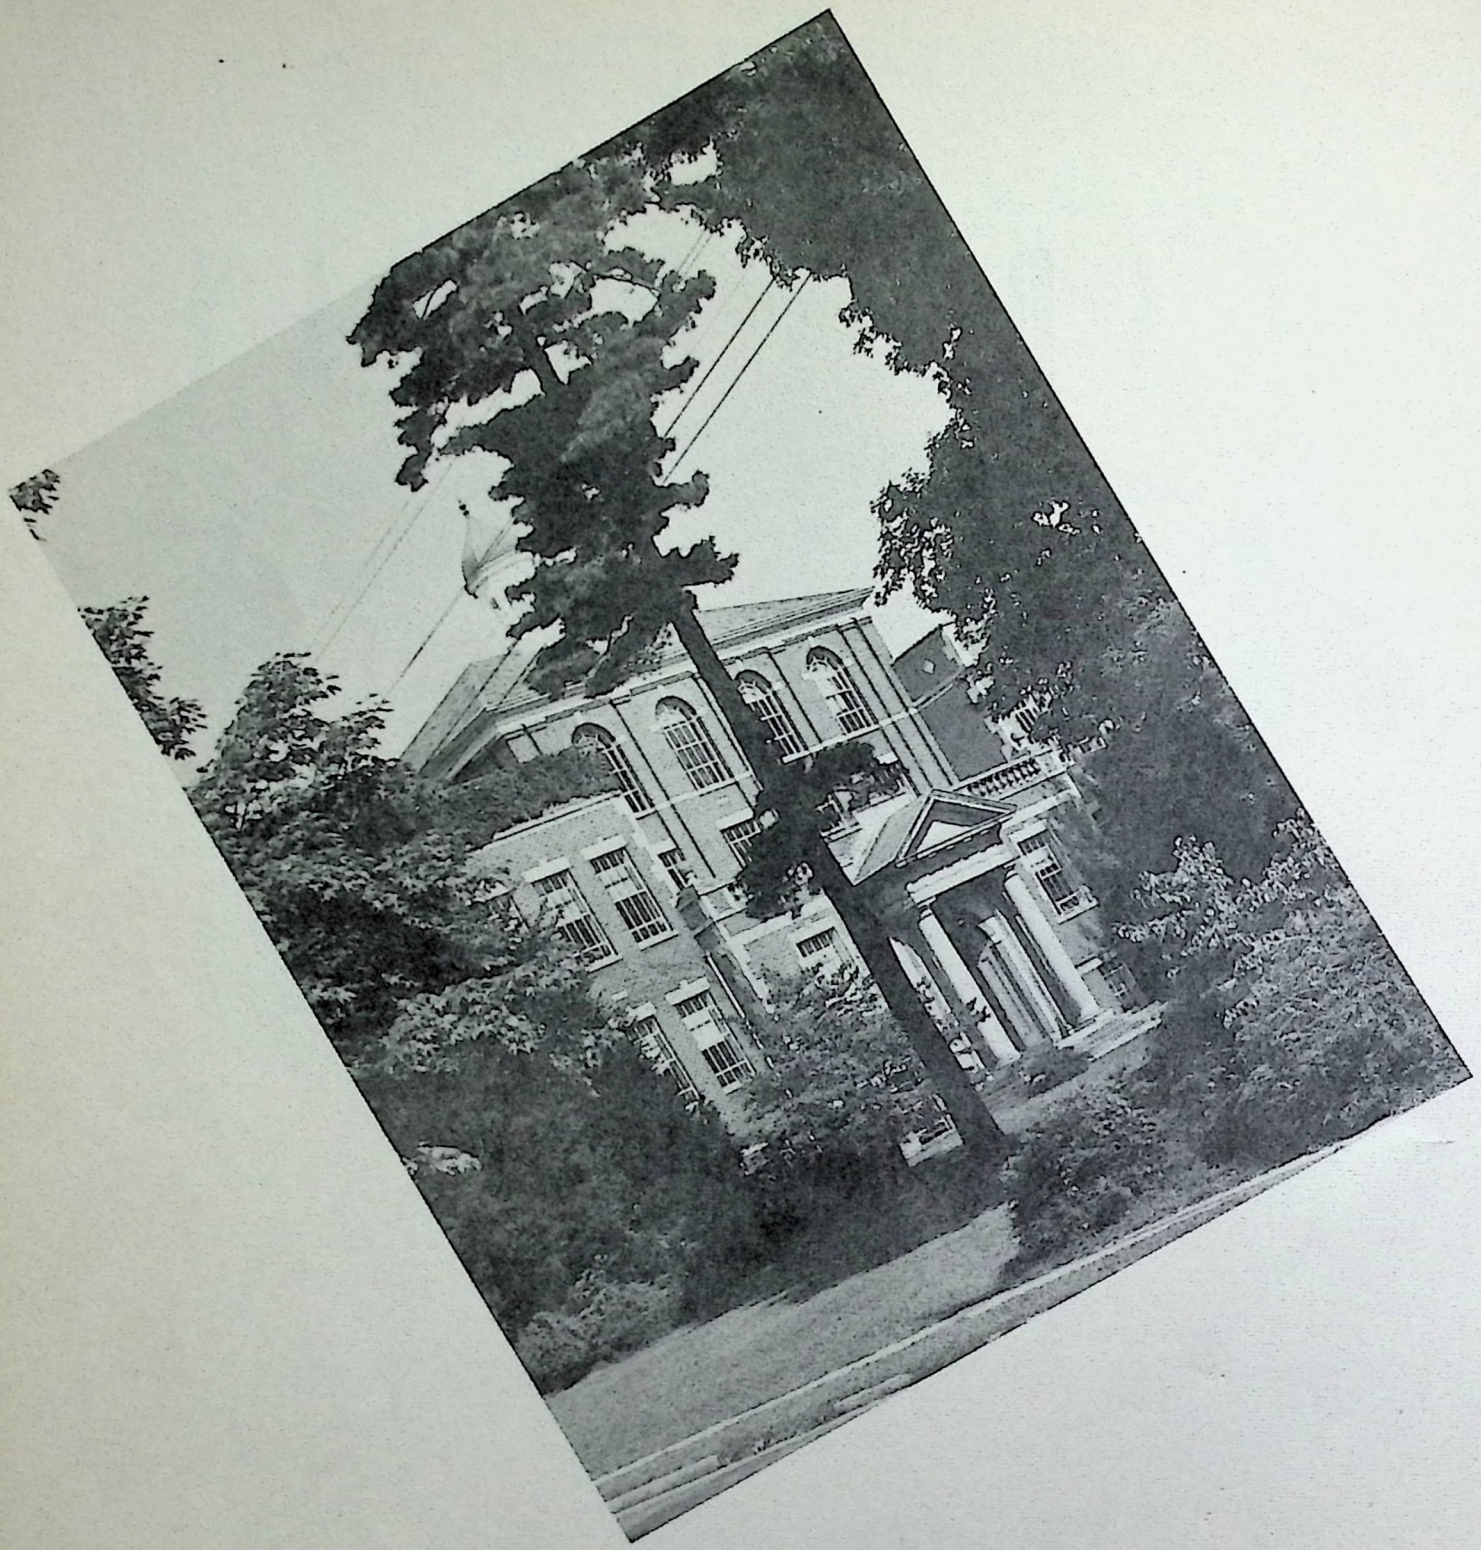
Frankfort High School

Frankfort, Kentucky

1949



Foreword

We, the Senior Class, present to you the 1949 Capitolian, a record of activities in Frankfort High School.

It has been the desire of the staff to record phases of school life as we see it and wish to remember it.

If you are able to recall classmates and memories dear to you, while turning through these pages, we of the Annual Staff will feel that we have accomplished our purpose.

Dedication

With gratitude and appreciation we, the Senior Class, respectfully dedicate our 1949 Capitolian to Mary O'Hara Reed, our commerce teacher.

Mrs. Reed was always our friend, ready to help, or give guidance as the need might be. Without her assistance this annual might not have been possible.

From the class of '49, fond farewell. May your future years be happy ones.

I, Kenneth Harp, leave my pitching arm to Gene Flynn.
We, John Paul Kelly and Arthur Snelling, leave our priority on the light-house to anyone with a car.
I, Forrest Harrod, bestow my flirtatious manners upon Henry Clay Gardenhire.
I, Billy Gayhart, bequeath my taste in selecting clothes to Todd Crutcher.
I, Walker Gretter, wish I could leave.
I, Tommy Braun, leave my cousin Kathleen Black to carry on the family brains.
I, Sam Colston, transfer my quiet disposition to David Marshall.
I, Boles Burke, leave the Leathers family.
I, Eleanor Snelling, bequeath my ability to get in more words per minute than anyone else to Patsy Watts.
We, Joanne Hodges and Norma Hawkins, leave to attend a tea party on the Versailles Pike.
I, Jean Sheets, while my house is still standing, leave my entertaining to the Juniors.
I, Winnona Shoemaker, bestow my lady-like ways upon Joan Hutcherson.
I, Charlene Davies, will my affection for redheads to Barbara Finnell.

Frankfort High School has not had a Student Council since the 1930's. Last year the council was organized, and a constitution was written, but it did not function officially until this year.

Four delegates attended the convention of the Kentucky Association of Student Councils in Louisville. At this convention Frankfort High School was honored by being elected Vice-President.

The Student Council is composed of twelve members, three chosen from each class. The president of the council is elected in a school - wide election. Mr. F. D. Wilkinson, principal is the advisor.

Among the council's projects this year have been a Sadie Hawkins Dance, noon movies, intra-mural basketball, and a vocational clinic.

This is only a start, big things are expected of the council in years to come!

KNEELING - SLAVES

"Forsan et haec olim meminisse invabit" (Perhaps you will be glad to remember even these things some day") quoted the Senators and Roman People as they saw, kneeling at their feet, the 34 slaves who had become initiates of the S.P.Q.R. in "Slave Day in Caesar's Camp" starring the talented actors Consul M. Smith, Quaestor H. Bennett, Senator-elect H. C. Gardenhire, Tribune B. McDonald, Senator W. Snyder, Senator M. Sullivan, and others.

In the consulship of M. Harrod and M. Smith the Latin Club did not confine its activities to its school or its nation but launched out upon a project of international scope when its members donated, gift-wrapped, and sent 176 pounds of food and clothing to a family of eleven Latvian Displaced Persons overseas. The Roman Senate "that most influential governing body in the world," succeeded in arranging for the Zintnieks family employment, housing, and transportation to their new homes in Kentucky.

With a two-star citation for outstanding observance of National Latin Week the year before, the Senators, Roman People, and Slaves set out earnestly to earn an even more commendable triumph through varied and worthwhile activities.

Advertisements

We, the Capitolian Staff, wish to express to all who have helped in the preparation of this yearbook our sincere appreciation. We are deeply grateful to the faculty sponsor, and to those students who gave so generously of their time and energy to make this project a success. We especially extend our thanks to the advertisers. Some have contributed just to help us without any definite expectation of direct benefit. Without the support of these people, this yearbook would not have been possible.

To The

Graduating Class of 1949

Greeting And Congratulations!

We salute you for your achievements

and extend to each of you

Every good wish on your efforts

Toward the future.
